Ultimate IT Guys Now Delivers Dark Web Monitoring Services through ID Agent Partnership

Ultimate IT Guys Offers Monitoring and Alerting of Stolen Digital Credentials, an Increasingly Valuable Asset on Dark Web

MANGUM, Oklahoma –December 1, 2017 – Ultimate IT Guys announced its new Dark Web monitoring services provided through its partnership with ID Agent, provider of Dark Web monitoring and identity theft protection solutions. With Dark Web ID, Ultimate IT Guys offers around the clock monitoring and alerting for increasingly compromised digital credentials, scouring millions of sources, including botnets, criminal chat rooms, peer-to-peer networks, malicious websites, bulletin boards and illegal black-market sites.

Cleatus Davis, CEO at Ultimate IT Guys, said

“At Ultimate IT Guys, one of our main goals is to keep our customer’s information safe and secure. In today’s world you should be monitoring your email addresses and passwords to know if you have an issue. Most people have been compromised and don’t even know that they have a problem. To make matters worse, they ignore the warning signs and continue to put themselves, their co-workers, and customers at risk. We have partnered with ID Agent because they are the recognized leader for monitoring logon information. We want to use the best tools for monitoring Ultimate IT Guys and our customers.”

The Dark Web is made up of various digital communities, and while there are legitimate purposes for the Dark Web, it is estimated that over 50 percent of all sites on the Dark Web today are used for criminal activities, including the disclosure and sale of digital credentials.

“Digital credentials such as usernames and passwords are widely used to connect to critical business applications – the reason these credentials are among the most valuable assets found on the Dark Web,” said Kevin Lancaster, CEO of ID Agent. “Unfortunately, the unaffordability of cyber offerings has played into the cyber poverty line experienced by small businesses. Dark Web ID, however, delivers an affordable model that provides small businesses with the same advanced credential monitoring capabilities used by Fortune 500 companies to organizations in the SMB and mid-market space.”

Dark Web ID is the industry’s only commercial solution available to detect customers’ compromised credentials in real-time on the Dark Web. It vigilantly searches the most secretive corners of the Internet to find compromised data associated with your customers’ employees, contractors and other personnel, and notifies them immediately when these critical assets are compromised. There are a few competitors in the market but none completely focused on the Dark Web as ID Agent’s solution.
